This type of pdf is everything and helped me searching ahead and a lot more. It normally does not expense a lot of. You wont really feel monotony at anytime of the time (that's what catalogues are for relating to should you request me).

A Magical Society: Beast Builder is 224 pages packed with information that helps you make your own monsters. In the tradition of A Magical Medieval Society: Western Europe and A Magical Society: Ecology and Culture, A Magical Society: Beast Builder gives you the tools you need to make your own campaign specific monsters to challenge and excite your players while adding to the depth and realism of your campaign world. Chapter One: Monster Concepts and Functions Monster concepts and functions drive what a monster is and even more importantly, what it does. This chapter discusses common concepts such as creature hierarchies (juvenile, adult, elder etc.), additive abilities (like the vrock's dance of ruin), mythological inspiration and other monster building aspects. It gives advice on creating a good concept based upon the function of a creature. Every monster has a concept and a type (such as giant, vermin, etc.), but more than that every monster has a function; the part of the monster that answers the question "What does it do?" I outline the 20 most common functions such as grappler, caster, disabler, energy attacker and PC killer, and how such functions play out...
